

Reserve your Company's spot for November 19th to be in front of a proven NATIONAL BROKER & INVESTOR AUDIENCE. This is the conference that the professionals call, the best value in the nation. Early Saturday start minimizes expense while optimizing time.

Present your Company to the right audience! The SCIA organization books solid companies with proven track records and proven management revealing their plans for growth.

Founded in 2000, Southern California Investment Association - (SCIA) created the National Small Cap Syndicate which is comprised of hundreds of licensed professionals representing thousands of clients and accredited investors. SCIA targets FINRA Registered Representatives, Registered Investment Advisors (RIA's) as well as high net worth individuals with sophisticated portfolios that are proven to have the most interest.

Your Company is promoted both before and after the conference on national wire services, trade publications and network distribution. SCIA digitally reproduces all of your presentation content as well as compressing and archiving this content on the SCIA website and in the cloud. This means you will reach a wider investor audience for months after the event!

In addition, SCIA offers complementary, cutting edge Social Media packages set-up or enhancement. Digital research, branding and digital media consultation is available at the conference.

SCIA's forum has been quoted as, the best and most efficient exposure and value offered to small companies on the street today. See: References and Testimonials

The SCIA criteria for presenting companies: $1M and above market cap; $10M revenues; or $5M minimum paid in capital. All companies are reviewed on a case by case basis. Apply now to join us as one of the featured companies.

Location: The exclusive Center Club, in the heart of the Orange County Performing Arts Center and the acclaimed Segerstrom Hall, conveniently located just blocks from the Orange County Airport (code SNA), in beautiful Southern California, midway between LA and San Diego.
